THE DAILY PROGRESS.

VOL. VI. RALEIGH, TUESDAY, OCT. 10, 1865. NO. 280.

BY J. L. PENNINGTON & CO.

STATE CONVENTION.

MONDAY, October 9, 1865.

The Convention met at 10 o'clock, a. m.

Prayer by Rev. Henry Hardie, of the Presbyterian church.

The journal was read.

The President announced the following as the committee on the State war debt:

Messrs. Settle, Jackson, Winston, Rumley, Russell, Allen, Logan, Dickey, Patterson, McDonald and Forshee.

Judge Howard asked permission to record his vote in favor of the ordinance abolishing slavery, as he was absent at the time of its passage on account of sickness. Granted.

Permission of the same character was granted Messrs. Cowper and Wilson.

Mr. Gilliam, from the committee on general amnesty, reported "a resolution on the subject of amnesty for the people of this State."

Mr. Sloan, from the committee on that subject, reported "an ordinance to divide the State into seven congressional districts."

Mr. Phillips, from the committee on the action of the legislature and the courts since 1861, reported an ordinance, recommending its passage.

RESOLUTIONS AND ORDINANCES.

Mr. Caldwell, of Burke, a resolution to enroll on parchment the ordinance declaring the ordinance of secession void, and to allow the members of this Convention to sign it.

Mr. Phillips, a resolution of enquiry in regard to lost records.

Mr. Baker, a resolution enquiring the propriety of establishing a penitentiary.

Mr. Howard, a resolution of enquiry in regard to the charter and status of the Piedmont railroad.

Mr. McDonald, of Chatham, a resolution providing for the election of judges by the people.

Mr. Smith, of Johnston, a resolution in regard to the qualifications of senators and representatives.

Mr. Donnell, an ordinance to provide for the payment of the State debt contracted before the war. Referred.

Mr. Bynum, a resolution to print 120 copies of the Constitution of the State.

The rules were suspended and this resolution was adopted.

Mr. McRae, an ordinance to provide for the election of three representatives in the Legislature from the counties of Cumberland and Harnett.

Mr. Moore, an ordinance requiring voters to pay a poll tax of one dollar.

Mr. Love moved to reconsider the vote by which the ordinance in relation to elections was passed, in order to amend it so that persons lately arrived at the age of twenty-one might vote.

Mr. Grissom hoped the motion would prevail, as he wished to move an amendment extending the term of office of the Governor.

Mr. Boyden said these objects might be obtained by another ordinance without a reconsideration.

Messrs. Pool, Love, and Caldwell, of Burke, urged the reconsideration.

Mr. Moore thought it proper that the first term of the Governor should be that prescribed by the ordinance. A large portion of the citizens of the State are now disfranchised; it was to be hoped that all such would soon be allowed all the privileges of citizenship, and he did not think it right for this Convention deliberately to disfranchise them for two years more, when it was highly probable that a general amnesty would soon be granted.

Mr. Caldwell considered Mr. Moore's remarks a strong argument in favor of the reconsideration of the ordinance.

The yeas and nays being ordered, the following voted in the affirmative: Messrs. Adams, Alexander, Allen, Barnes, Baker, Barrow, Beam, Bingham, Bradley, Brown, Brooks. Bryan, Burgin, Buxton, Cannum, Caldwell, of Burke, Caldwell, of Guilford, Dockey, Dockery, Donnell, Ellis, Faircloth, Faison, Faulkner, Ferebee, Furches, Gahagan, Garland, Garrett, Gilliam, Grissom, Harris, of Guilford Harris, of Rutherford, Haynes, Henry, Hodge, Howard, Jackson, Jarvis, Johnston, Jones, of Columbus, Jones, of Davidson, Jones, of Henderson, Jones, of Rowan, Joyce, Joyner, Kelly, Kennedy, King, Logan, Love, of Chatham, Love, of Jackson, Lusby, McCauley, McCorkle, McCoy, McDonald, McDonald, of Chatham, McDonald, Moore, McGehee, McIvor, McKay, N. A. McLean, Nat. McLean, McRae, Mial, of Chatham, Murphy, Nicholson, Norfleet, Phillips, Polk, Pool, Reade, Rumley, Rush, Settle, Simmons, Sloan, Smith, of Anson, Smith, of Johnston, Smith, of Wilkes, Spencer, of Hyde, Spencer, of Montgomery, Starbuck, Stephenson, Stewart, Stubbs, Swan, Thompson, Walkup, Ward, Warren, Williams, Wilson, Winston—93.

And the following in the negative: Messrs. Bell, Berry, Boyden, Brickell, Clark, Conigland, Cowper, Godwin, Henrahan, Lash, McCleese, McLaughlin, Moore, of Wake, Odom, Perkins, Russell, Saunders, Willey, Winburn and Wright.—20.

So the vote was reconsidered.

Mr. Thompson, an ordinance declaring all the State offices vacant, where the holder has taken an oath inconsistent with the Constitution of the United States.

Mr. Love, an ordinance to restore the Supreme Court. Reappoints judges Pearson, Battle and Manly.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

The resolution declaring that the result of the war has settled the question of secession, was read.

Mr. Boyden moved to lay on the table, as that question had been decided by the Convention. Agreed to.

Resolutions forbidding the assumption of the State war debt were laid on the table.

An ordinance to declare the basis of representation for other purposes, was read and referred to a select committee of five.

A message was received from his Excellency, the Governor, transmitting the following dispatch from W. Powell, agent for the State at Washington city:

WASHINGTON, October 7, 1865.

"The President is very much gratified with the action of the Convention. I write this in his office, and he tells me to say the Convention has done what is right, and that such action adds greatly to our strength here."

The ordinance in regard to elections was read by sections and amended.

Mr. Grissom moved to amend the first section, so as to extend the term of office of the Governor and members of the Legislature to 1867, instead of 1866.

Mr. Caldwell, of Guilford, was in favor of annual sessions, and thought the constitution should be amended accordingly.

Mr. Phillips approved of the policy indicated in the original bill, and wished the people to have an actuality in a short time to call their representatives to account, as the first election would be necessarily hasty and would lead to hasty legislation.

The question being on the motion to strike out and insert Mr. Grissom's amendment, the convention refused to strike out by a vote of 29 yeas to 79 nays.

Mr. Logan moved to add "regular election" after the word "next" in the first election.

Messrs. Winston and Boyden raised a point of order, on the ground that the convention had already decided not to extend the time, and this was substantially the same proposition as that presented by the delegate from Granville.

Mr. Caldwell, of Burke, said he was truly glad that it was proposed to have an election so soon as November, as it would give demagogues and politicians no opportunity of exciting the public mind on partizan measures. The people left to themselves almost invariably did right.

Mr. Phillips said that free discussion was necessary to enable the people to do right, and vote understandingly.

Mr. Boyden was opposed to disfranchising citizens for two years, who would be disfranchised at the next election. He earnestly hoped that before the expiration of two years every citizen of the State would be restored to his franchise.

Mr. Phillips moved that the first decision of the convention be considered final and that the clause proposed to be amended is the sense of the body. Agreed to.

Mr. Love moved to amend by requiring the legislature to assemble on the fourth Monday in November, instead of the third. Agreed to.

On motion of Mr Caldwell, of Burke, the word "directed" in the second section, was stricken out, and "authorised and requested" inserted.

Mr. Caldwell remarked that the Provisional Governor, being an officer of the United States, could not be "directed" by this Convention.

Mr. Love, of Jackson, moved to add to the fifth section "and that the payment of a poll tax shall not be required at the elections in November next." Agreed to.

Mr. Grissom moved to add to the eleventh section "1868" instead of "1867." [This amendment extends the term of office of the Governor until 1868.]

The yeas and nays being called, the amendment was voted down. Yeas 33, nays 79.

Mr. Henry moved an amendment repealing the property qualification for voters and members of the General Assembly.

Messrs. Phillips and Boyden said they would vote against the amendment, as the ordinance under consideration was intended to fill an interregnum and not to permanently alter the State constitution.

The amendment was withdrawn.

Mr. Furches moved to amend by providing for the election of sheriffs and clerks. Not agreed to.

The ordinance as amended then passed its third reading and the Convention adjourned to 10 o'clock to-morrow.

DIVORCE CASE IN FASHIONABLE LIFE.—A divorce case in the "most fashionable circles" is being tried in New London, Connecticut. The plaintiff is Jonathan N. Harris, the maker of the patent medicine called "Perry Davis's Pain Killer," and the defendant is his wife. Harris has been mayor of New London, and is now a member of the Connecticut Senate. A letter from New London says:

"In appearance Harris is of low stature, but rather good looking, and of a gentlemanly demeanor and sanctimonious aspect. He seemed to feel in court the delicacy of his position, and his eye frequently wandered to the place where his wife sat, surrounded by her friends and children.

"Mrs. Harris is a very prepossessing lady of forty-five. She entered the court room accompanied by two lady friends and her daughter Jennie. She did not feel in the least embarrassed, and looked around the court-room with an air of perfect ease and confidence. She was attired quite fashionably, in black, with jewelry adornments, fan and smelling-bottle. She is of medium size and rather stout. She has a florid complexion, clear blue eyes and very graceful figure. Miss Jennie is a beautiful young lady of twenty-one. She was engaged to be married to Samuel Thompson, Esq., formerly President of the First National Bank of New York, but this trouble appears to have broken it off.

"The most eminent counsel in this section have been engaged on both sides. Their names are as follows: For Mrs. Harris, John T. Wait, Abiel Converse, Jeremiah Halsey. For Mr. Harris, Andrew C. Lippitt, Augustus Brandegree.

"The husband's petition is based on allegations to the effect that he can prove that his wife has kept up and cultivated improper intimacies with Major William Williams, United States army, lately in command at Fort Trumbull; Allen P. Miner, of New York city, and with various other parties not now necessary to mention. Mrs. Harris, in her petition, which is very long, sets forth and promises to prove that her husband accused her, while on their wedding tour, of impurity before marriage, and for years. Some of the specifications are too vulgar to be repeated, and the case promises many disgusting developments."

A Backwoods Sermon.

My Brithren:—My tex is some where between the lids of the Bible and reads thus:

"Why do you go bowed down as a bulrush?"

Now, my dear brithren—ah. I don't suppose many of you understand—ah, what a bulrush means—ah. Well then I'm gwine for to tell you—ah; for it is a most dreadful thing—ah, for men—ah, to go like a bulrush—ah. But to explain my tex—ah. Did you never see in the spring of the year—ah, when the hickory buds were coming out—ah, a little bull—ah, go to a clay root—ah, and stick his horns deep into the clay—ah. And then are you never seen him—ah go to a bush—ah, and rub his head up and down—ah, going at the same time—ah hum-him-hum-hah, hum-him-hum-hah. And all at once—ah, hed cocked up his tail—ah, and run off like the devil was arter him ah.

This, my dear brithren—ah, is what is meant by a bulrush—ah. Now, my dear brithren—ah, this is the way with poor sinners—ah, till the devil has got 'em—ah, and by and by—ah they keep a goin along—ah, till all at once—ah, they cock up their tails—ah, and go right to the devil—ah. Let me say to you then, my dear brithren—ah, not to go bowed down like a bulrush—ah.

CONFEDERATE FLAGS.—Three ladies of Sumter, S. C., were called to account by the provost marshal recently for wearing Confederate flags at a party. They were sharply rebuked, and settled the matter by a written apology, in which they disavowed all intention of insulting the United States or expressing disloyalty.

GEN. GRANT THINKS MILITARY RULE SHOULD CEASE.—The Rev. L. D. Huston, of Newport, who was arrested by order of Gen. Palmer, has been sent to Tennessee. It is said that Gen. Grant, on the 2d instant, sent an order to the military commandant in Kentucky, directing the immediate and unconditional release of Mr. Huston, and in a day or two that gentleman accompanied back to Cincinnati. It is the sentiment of Gen. Grant that military rule should cease, and that the civil power should be restored. On being made acquainted with the facts, he accordingly at once put a stop to the infamous persecution Mr. Huston had undergone.

THE CITY.

GAMBLING AMONG BOYS.—We are pained to hear from a gentleman of acknowledged piety and high social position, that a great tendency to gamble is evinced among the boys of this community. He says scarcely a day passes but some of them collect together in secluded spots, unwrap their pack of cards and put up their stakes, and deal out "seven up," "euchre" or some other familiar game. We understand that beneath the trees on the suburbs a number of boys from the city assemble regularly every day and sport for small sums of money. It is further stated that children of some of our most respectable citizens may be found in these gatherings, led astray by evil company and learning to do that which in the future may blight happiness and murder character.

The truth is—and here is just the place to say it—parents do not seem to realize the responsibility that rests upon them in the particular circumstances of the present moment. Far too much attention is paid to the acquisition of greenbacks, the securement of fine dress and outward show, and these things to the neglect of moral and religious training. We ask parents to halt—to manoeuvre less for the blandishments of fashion and more in the direction of wisely disciplining their offspring. They may depend upon it we speak of these things with a view to their interests, the reform of the boys, and the good of society in the time to come.

BALLOONING.—There was another balloon ascension last night and although minus an aeronaut, it was rather a splendid exhibition. The balloon was made from twenty copies of the New York Herald, with a basket for motive power thirty-six inches deep and at the top eight inches across. It was decorated with one union and one confederate flag, with the motto, "one and indivisible." It moved off from the starting point in a course directly south and continued to mount skyward until lost to sight. It was a very successful affair and we only regret that the hour chosen for the ascension—1 o'clock, p. m.—prevented a general observation of the really pretty display.

RECIPE FOR OYSTER SOUP.—A friend sends the annexed recipe for making oyster soup, and as the season for bivalvular luxuries is on us, we print it for the benefit of our readers:

Take two quarts of oysters, (measured solid,) and an equal quantity of oyster liquor, or water if the liquor cannot be had. Season with pepper and salt, and boil until the hearts become white; at this point add a custard, which has been previously prepared, as follows: The yolks of six eggs to be beaten well, over which a quart of boiling milk is to be poured and stirred in. Let the oysters and the custard boil up once. Cream two table-spoonsful of butter, with two heaping spoonsful of flour, and put it in the boiling soup and stir until it is melted. Pour off on hot toasted bread.

A MATTER OF JUSTICE.—We transfer to our columns from the Standard of yesterday, the following paragraph. It simply states facts:

W. R. Richardson, Esq.—By the proceedings of the Board of Commissioners, it will be seen that not only is Mr. Richardson entirely exonerated from all intimations which might affect his integrity, but his services as Treasurer were duly rewarded. The gentlemen composing the board disclaim any intention of insinuating anything against Mr. R. as a gentleman of honor. The affair grew out of a misunderstanding on the part of Mr. R., and has been disposed of to the satisfaction of all his friends.

We published in Monday's paper the proceedings to which the above refers.

OHIO ELECTION.—Voters in this vicinity being residents of the State of Ohio may be interested in the information that a poll will be opened to-day, at 10 A. M., by Capt. Dalgell, of the 5th Ohio cavalry, at the camp of that regiment, about one mile south of Department Head Quarters, on the Fayetteville Road. Citizen employees of the government as well as soldiers are entitled by the laws of Ohio to vote at this election.

Ambulances will start from the office of Capt. A. M. Garoutte, A. Q. M., at 11 o'clock.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—The people have long since awarded this paper the palm as a vehicle of news. As a consequence merchants, tradesmen, and all who have anything to buy or sell, give it the preference with their advertisements. We refer to the favors in to-day:

Maj. G. Bell, C. S. U. S. A.—Proposals for the sale of Hard Bread.

M. Mordecai—Wood for Sale.

S. W. Marshall—Steam Saw Mill for Sale.

T THINGS—and coffee pots, too, for the matter of that, with many other useful things, may be found at the depot of Lougee & Bro., opposite our office. It is one of the oldest established business houses in the city and we verily believe that an order for any article in their line would be as faithfully filled, as to quality and price, as if the purchasers were present. This is saying a good deal, but we do not consider it exaggeration; but read their advertisement and then test the assertion.

A. B. C.—The Rev. Henry Hardie is the agent of the American Bible Society, and we understand would be pleased to hear from all who feel an interest in the noble enterprise as to the formation of new or the re-organization of old bible societies. His address is Raleigh.

PROTECTION AGAINST FIRE.—We call attention to the advertisement of Herring & Co., New York; Chicago and Philadelphia, who represent Herring and Hall's Patent Bonding & Co.'s premises [illegible] No banker or business man should be without one.

THE Convention proceedings are reported for the PROGRESS by W. H. Finch, Esq., one of the best reporters in the Southern country. He gives full, accurate and reliable reports of the doings of the body, and persons who desire them for present reading or future reference should not fail to secure files of the paper containing these reports.

F. & F. PUBLISHING HOUSE.—We have only a moment owing to the pressure of telegrams, convention proceedings, etc., upon our columns, in which to call attention this morning to the advertisements of the Field and Fireside Publishing House. They speak for themselves, however, and when once fairly under way their enterprise will reflect credit on the State.

WANTED.—Any freedwoman, who is versed in the mysteries of the culinary art and can get up a good dinner out of good material, will hear something to her advantage by applying immediately at McKimmon's store, Fayetteville street.

U. S. C. TROOPS.—By the train last evening from Goldsboro, a large number of colored troops—perhaps a regiment—reached the city. We understand they are on their way home via Petersburg, City Point and Fortress Monroe.

DISAPPOINTED—the ladies and gentlemen who attended the Baptist church last night to hear a free lecture. It did not come off, but they did. What prevented the lecturer from appearing has not transpired.

—There was a flurry of snow in Philadelphia on Wednesday evening, lasting nearly half an hour.

—Twenty-two buildings have been rebuilt in the burnt district of Richmond, and eighty more are nearly finished.

—Secretary Seward almost daily promenades the Northern suburbs of Washington. His figure is erect and his carriage firm, but his face shows ineffacable traces of the assassin's work upon him.

THE SWEET SOUTH WIND—breathing o'er beds of violets, is not more fragrant than SOZODONT. And the aroma which it exales, communicates itself to the breaths of all who use this marvelous dentifrice, white teeth, ruddy gums, a sweet mouth, and the certainty of enjoying these desirables in perpetuity, are among the blessings derived from the use of SOZODONT.

BURNING OF THE MUSEUM!

LETTER FROM MR. P. T. BARNUM!

NEW YORK, July 14, 1865.

Messrs. Herring & Co.:

GENTLEMEN—Though the destruction of the American Museum has proved a serious loss to myself and the public, I am happy to verify the old adage that "It's an ill wind that blows nobody good," and, consequently, congratulate you that your well-known safes have again demonstrated their superior fire-proof qualities in an ordeal of unusual severity.

The safe you made for me some time ago was in the office of the Museum, on the second floor, back part of the building, and in the hottest of the fire.

After twenty-four hours of trial it was found among the debris, and on opening it this day has yielded up its contents in very good order—books, papers, policies of insurance, bank bills, all in condition for immediate use, and a noble commentary on the trustworthiness of Herring's Fire-Proof Safes.

Truly yours,

P. T. BARNUM.

The State Convention.

Nothing of importance done yesterday. An attempt was made to change term of Governor to be elected by people but failed. There is a meaning in this desire to have two Governors, elected by the people, inaugurated within nine months, that does not appear on the surface, and we shall refer to it hereafter.

"That mendacious print will be made to eat its own words, whenever its principal editor is called to account for such unblushing effrontery and falsehood. A gentleman of the highest standing, remarked to us a few days ago, tha none but the North Carolina and Confederate soldiers, ever received any direct benefit from the blockading business. That gentleman is acquainted more thoroughly, perhaps, with the business than any other man. But the reader must not suppose that we design to defend Z B. Vance against the malignity and mendacity of the Progress. He is above reproach or suspicion, and we beg his pardon for mentioning his name in the same connection."—Sentinel.

"Let not the sun go down upon thy wrath." Does our venerable cotemporary mean that we are to be called to account here below, or does he refer to that account we in common with all the children of Adam are to render beyond the vale? If called to account here below we shall have but little difficulty in settling all bills, or at least we have managed to satisfactorily accommodate our creditors heretofore; but if for our sins against the house of Zebulon we are to answer at the last day, we fear we shall go on hardening our heart and stiffening our neck, for the walk and conversation of many who preach the doctrine of accountability is so little in keeping with their professions that a perverse generation is naturally led to the conclusion that they'll never have to settle at all.

Our cotemporary uses very harsh and severe language, which we regret; not that it injures us or ruffles our temper in the least, but we know that it can by no means add to his peace of mind. We have given him no cause for his personal attacks, any more than we did during the last gubernatorial campaign; and we assure him that the "old National Intelligencer" was never wont to be vindictively personal.

But seriously: Does this disaffected apologist for treason and traitors know that in threatening loyal men, and defending those who are held as traitors to be tried for treason, he is defying the government? Does he know that in eulogising Z. B Vance he is eulogising a man who is now held as a prisoner to be tried for the highest crime known to our laws, that of treason? And that he is now only allowed to enjoy the society of his wife and children by the magnanimity of his late opponent, W. W. Holden? And does this sanctimonious conductor of a treasonable sheet know that a simple word from the Provisional Governor would again consign his pet, Vance, to the old capitol prison, at Washington? Really it is remarkable that treason has become so rampant and so defiant before the State has been re-admitted, but it only developes the fact that it exists, and it is better that it should be known now than hereafter.

If the editor of the Sentinel, or any of his household, as the peculiar champions of Vance, Davis, or other traitors, desires to call us to account for denouncing their treason, we hope they will not stand upon the order of doing it, but do it once.

How Shall We Pay Expenses?

There is no more efficient officer or accommodating gentleman between the poles than Mr. Treasurer Worth, and no one pays bills, individual or corporate, more cheerfully than he does when the vouchers are all right; but when a man can't he can't, and there's an end to it. How are we to pay the Convention expenses?—Then the Legislature, the State officers, and other expenses? The people of North Carolina are poor, individually, collectively and as a corporation. We don't believe there is produce enough in the State to subsist the people till June, there is no surplus to raise money from, many of our people will have to sell property to pay taxes; and to sum it all up and be short, we are in a bad fix generally.

But the members of the Convention must be paid. They cannot be expected to come here and serve the people for nothing and support themselves meantime, and some provision must be made for their per diem. Possibly our most excellent Treasurer has the "currency" to square up and take in their warrants, but if so, he has no doubt borrowed it, and the Legislature soon to assemble will have to arrange to pay the debt and also to make another raise whereby their own board and wash bills may be liquidated.

For the benefit of our law-makers, law-givers and office-holders, we copy the following from a South Carolina paper, to show how their Convention was paid off:

"The Committee on Ways and Means, with the venerable keeper of the money bags, O. M. Furman, at the head of it, reported in the convention to-day an ordinance providing for the mode and manner of paying the expenses of the convention. It appears that the Treasury of the State is innocent of coin or Treasury notes, and has to borrow from the Bank of the Sate in order to "raise the wind" for the present emergency, and that members and employees of the convention will receive for their services a due bill of the State of South Carolina, which they can present to the cashiers of the body, who will pay them in greenbacks and reserve the bills for the bank as claims against the State when she recovers from her impecuniosity. It is a little embarrassing to see our good mother compelled to tell her children that she has not got anything in her purse; but it is quite as much gratifying to notice how the statement is exchanged, and the feeling of confidence which inspires her legislative chicks, that she will soon recover from her impoverished condition. The whole expenses of the convention will amount to about fourteen thousand dollars."

We do not rejoice at the poverty of our fair sister on the southern border, and yet, upon the principle that misery loves company, we suppose there is consolation in the fact that we are no worse off than other folks. We have untold wealth in the bowels of the earth, but our freedmen and freemen are so badly demoralised we fear it will be a long time before we dig it out.

The delegates to the Convention must be paid, however, and they ought to pay themselves liberally for the time they are here; but the beggarly condition of the Treasury ought to admonish them that time is money.

Some of our people are still insisting on importing white laborers to do the farm labor of the country. We would like to know if it is the purpose to export the present white population. We have many thousand whites in this State, and in fact all throughout the South, that must work at something, or starve. Better let those we already have here go to work first, and then if there is not enough, it will be time enough to talk about importing white laborers.

We regret to learn that R. P. Dick, Esq., of Guilford, and Col. W. H. Harrison, of Wake, are still detained from their seats in the Convention, on account of sickness.

STATE ITEMS.

John White has been appointed postmaster at Chapel Hill and a daily mail established between there and Durham's, on the North Carolina railroad, Messrs. Tilley and Lewter being the contractors. This arrangement will enable the people of Chapel Hill and vicinity to get a daily mail.

The Salisbury Banner of Saturday says:—We learn that on last Sunday, at the Episcopal church in this city, while the pastor was reading the prayer in the liturgy for the President of the United States, a female threw up above her head a small Confederate flag. It is not in our line, and we do not propose to comment upon this conduct in its irreligious aspect, but to enter our protest against such actions being construed as evidence of any general sentiment of the good people of this community and to warn the offender, whoever she may be, and all others of her notions, against a repetition of the scene. Such conduct is not only disloyal, but impolite. We earnestly trust that it will not be repeated, but that hereafter young ladies will attend church for legitimate purposes and those only.

Alfred Locke, the negro who was hung at Salisbury last Friday, was convicted of committing a rape.

A fair exhibition of frost was made in Charlotte and vicinity last Saturday morning.

The Greensboro World says:—We see in the papers a call from J. E. Williamson, Esq., president of the Board of Trustees of the Greensboro Female College, for all the trustees to meet at this place on the 25th inst. We do not know the object of this call, but suppose the President desires to take such steps as will result in the speedy reconstruction of this deservedly popular institution, which was accidentally destroyed by fire in 1863.

This institution, although under the control of the Methodist Episcopal church, was ever considered, by all denominations, as a school of no ordinary merit, and its loss was deeply regretted by every lover of the Old North State.

A Plucky Infant.—The Aerian (Michigan) Expositor relates the following incident:

A little girl about two years old, and a diminutive little thing at that, while playing with her brother, by some unaccountable accident, fell into a well about thirty feet to the water. The boy gave the alarm, and the mother running out, discovered her little darling floating on the water. The bucket was down (it probably went down with the child) and the mother, instead of wasting her energies in fruitless screams, caught the rope and swung the bucket partially under the child; the little hands grasped the pail, and it was drawn to the top and rescued by the terrified but courageous parent. During its perilous journey out, it looked up and several times called "mamma," "mamma." A more thrilling peril and rescue seldom occurs, and, indeed, the whole thing is next to miraculous; but the facts are beyond cavil. The name of the family is Snyder, and they reside about five miles southwest from this village.

Buying Negroes.—A highly speculative individual in Petersburg, is buying negroes upon the chance that the United States Government will hereafter pay for all the slaves emancipated by the result of the late war. He offers $10 in gold for the right of property in each negro, and the Petersburg Index learns that in some cases where he had effected purchases he had actually paid the money. The Richmond Times hopes the gentleman has a large amount of gold, and that he will not confine his operations to Petersburg.

Fast Time.—The Detroit Free Press says the European capitalists who left Chicago on Tuesday morning were taken over the intervening two hundred and forty miles to Toledo in less than seven hours, including forty minutes for lunch at Elkhart, and all of the several stops along the way. Deducting stops, the entire distance was run at the rate of forty-seven miles an hour, while, as if to show what an American locomotive could do over a superb roadbed, the last thirty-three miles were accomplished in thirty-two minutes.

The Abandoned and Confiscated Lands and the Freedmen's Bureau.—It is evident, from the following order issued from the Freedmen's Bureau to-day, that the restoration of property now held as abandoned and confiscated is to be entered into by the commissioners of the bureau throughout the South with scrupulous exactness in regard to the title of the same and the legal ownership thereof.—The circular subjoined corroborates this view:

"Assistant commissioners are directed in their reports of abandoned or confiscated lands to arrange the names of former owners of such lands in each county, district or parish in alphabetical order.—The number of acres herein required to be stated will always be given as nearly as the same can be ascertained. Copies of all orders returning property to former owners will be forwarded to this bureau as soon as issued, in compliance with special instructions from the head of the bureau, and the papers in such cases will be returned with copies of the orders."

A man complained of being turned out of a concert room and said he was fired with indignation. "If you were fired," added a bystander, "perhaps that's the reason they put you out."

A country editor thinks that Richelieu, who declared that the "pen was mightier than the sword," ought to have spoken a word in favor of the "scissors."

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

In the year 1846, the writer embarked in the Drug Business in the city of Philadelphia, and while thus engaged, made several experiments in regard to the most desirable mode of preparing Fluid Extracts. My efforts being successful—the articles being approved and used by the medical faculty—I was desirous of placing them before the public, but hesitated for some time before concluding to resort to newspaper advertising, knowing of the prejudices that existed in the minds of many against using advertised Medicines or Nostrums, but through the advice of friends and those who had used them this objection was overcome.

After 18 years' exertions, commencing in a small way, the popularity of my articles has extended to all parts of the United States, and widely throughout foreign countries—and this in the face of much opposition.—Every means has been resorted to by unprincipled dealers since their merit and success have been known—such as advertising large bottles at less price, censuring all other preparations, and even copying my advertisements—but I am happy to state that out of the many who have resorted to this, none have been successful.

MY OBJECT

in this notice is to make facts known to the public and respectable dealers, believing, after so many years' exertions, that the Druggists will discountenance such proceedings, and that the reputation of my articles may not be damaged by the use of inferior or spurious ones.

Knowing that many may read this article who are unacquainted with me, I append a few remarks from those of my native city, and whose names are known in all parts of the world:

"Being personally acquainted with Mr. H. T. Helmbold, it affords me pleasure in stating I have been most favorably impressed with his energy and integrity, and gratified at his success." WM. WEIGHTMAN,
Firm of Powers & Weightman,
Ninth and Brown Streets, Philadelphia.

[Evening Bulletin, Philadelphia.]

"When on a visit to the city of New York, a few days since, I was induced to call on our old friend and townsman, Mr. H. T. Helmbold, Druggist, 594 Broadway, N. Y. His store is a model—a perfect gem—the handsomest of any kind we have ever had the pleasure of viewing, and so extensive, being 34 feet front, five stories in height, and over 200 feet deep. It indeed affords us much pleasure to know that he has been so successful and it is ample evidence of the merits of his articles—as in our whole business experience we have not known of the success of any articles without merit—advertising merely bringing the name before the people."

[Boston Herald.]

"We do not like to advertise worthless wares, or articles calculated to deceive our readers; and when we see an advertiser like Mr. Helmbold, whom we have known for years, gradually extend his advertising from year to year until he becomes the largest advertiser in the United States, we are satisfied that the statements in regard to his articles must be correct."

The writer reluctantly inserts the above, and would not do so were he not a stranger to many; and concludes by stating the names of his articles, and the diseases for which they have been used by many thousands with complete success.

Origin of Cholera.

The report of an Egyptian Commission of Inquiry professes to have discovered what geologists would term the matrix of the cholera, and they certainly make out a very good case in support of their hypothesis. They aver that it has its source in that sterile part of Arabia, flanking the Red Sea, called the Hedjuz, wherein stand the holy cities of Mecca and Medina. The London Court Journal gives the following facts elicited by their investigations:

"The annual pilgrimage to Mahomet's tomb congregates on this burning desert eight hundred thousand pilgrims, who live in the midst of the most indescribable filth. They die like rotten sheep, and are not even buried, but shuffled under a foot or so of sand, which is easily blown off the corpses. Some two millions of sheep are offered as sacrifices, all the offal of which is thrown under the burning sun to help the miasma. The pilgrims wear the same garments from the beginning until the end of their sacred journey; and as if this were not sufficient help to originating and spreading disease, the clothes of one who chances to die, no matter of what disease, are carefully preserved and distributed as memorials among the relatives and friends.

"Here we have at least all the predisposing causes, according to the most logical reasoning, for the institution and propagation of cholera but, in addition, we have also the vouched for fact that this year cholera did break out in this nest of puridity, carried off one hundred thousand pilgrims in the course of a fortnight, and spread to Egypt with the results, which everybody knows. The Egyptian sanitarians argue that here we have the nursery, the hot-bed where the successive visitation of cholera westward have been generated, and hence they have been propagated; and if they will not succeed in earning universal belief, we can hardly find grounds for denying their minor postulate, that here at least the present incursion of cholera found its source."

Gen. Wise on the Freedom of the Negro.

Ex-Governor Henry A. Wise, of Va., in a letter to Gen. Grant, written some time since, says:

"So far from my being opposed to the name of freedmen," as indicating the condition of slaves freed by the war, the chief consolation I have in the result of the war is that slavery is forever abolished, that not only the slaves are, in fact, at last freed from bondage, but that I am freed from them. Long before the war indeed, I had definitely made up my mind actively to advocate emancipation throughout the South. I had determined, if I could do it, that my descendants should never be subject to the humiliation I have been subject to by the weakness if not the wickedness of slavery; and while I do not recognize as lawful and humane the violent and shocking mode in which it has been abolished, yet I accept the fact most heartily as an accomplished one, and am determined not only to live by it and acquiesce in it, but strive by all the means in my power to make it beneficent to both races and a blessing especially to our country.—I unfeignedly rejoice at the fact, and am reconciled to many of the worst calamities of the war, because I am now convinced that the war was a special providence of God, unavoidable by the nation at either extreme, to tear loose from us a black curse from which we could never have been separated by any other means than those of fire and the sword and sacrifice.

LAWLESSNESS.—There is a bad state of affairs in the ground Richmond. The Republic of Friday says:—We learn that there are several bands of robbers operating just below this city on the roads leading into Richmond. On Wednesday night two market carts were robbed of their contents near Rocky Hill, and the drivers terribly beaten, by the robbers. This took place as early as 8 o'clock in the evening. We respectfully ask the attention of the military authorities to this subject. If these bands of highwaymen are not broken up, marketers will be afraid to bring their supplies to our city.

The New York Times, of yesterday, says that the steamer City of Boston and Erin, which sailed from this port on Saturday, are said to have taken out $1,000,000 in bonds for the use of the embryotic Irish republic. It is currently reported that as soon as these bonds reach Ireland matters will assume a more definite form, and a proclamation, also printed here, will be spread broadcast throughout the land. The object of these bonds and their shipment is a fact well authenticated, and is one of the straws which show the direction of the wind.

Two young ladies in Botetourt county, Va., were recently attacked by a large rabid dog. He seized them by the dress, and her screams brought a young man, Wm. O. Goode, to the rescue. He took the dog by the throat, and after a desperate struggle, succeeded in killing him with a stone. The young man who "braved the most terrible death" to save the girls, is publicly thanked by her in the Lynchburg Virginian.

In 1850 there were in nine Southern States 228 cotton manufacturing establishments, employing over 4,000 workmen, and having an aggregate capital of five millions of dollars. The most of the mills were in Virginia, North Carolina and Tennessee. In 1860 the business had immensely increased, and to its revival now the South looks for a measure of its coming prosperity.

SENTIMENTAL ARITHEMETIC.—Calculate thus: 2 looks make one look; 2 looks, make one sigh; 4 sighs make one waltz; 2 waltzes, make one palpitation, 2 palpitations, make one call; 2 calls, make one sue; 2 attentions, make one fool (after two); 2 sighs make one flirtation; 1 flirtation, plus 2 buoys, equal to one engagement, equal to one marriage.

A correspondent writes from Montgomery the story of a gentleman who was pardoned recently at a cost of a thousand dollars. This is only an illustration of the corrupt practices now prevailing in the Capital in reference to the President's sacred office.

We have a man in Mississippi so lean that he has no shadow at all. A rattle-snake struck at him three times in vain, and retired in disgust. Six hungry dogs look at him; and when children see him in the street, they run home crying.

LATEST FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE STEAMSHIP CHINA.

Additional Arrests of Fenians.

MURDER OF THE ENGLISH NOBILITY.

THE COTTON MARKET UP.

HALIFAX, Oct. 9, 1865.

The steamship China, with Liverpool dates to the 1st inst., has arrived here.

Bank of England had advanced its discount rates four and a half per cent.

On the 29th, U. S. 5-20's sold at seventy and a half; Consols eighty-nine and eighty-nine and quarter.

At Dublin a number of Fenian prisoners had been brought before the magistrates on the Saturday preceding the sailing of the China. The counsel for the government created some commotion among the large crowd in the court room by stating that immense sums of money had been received from America by some of the prisoners.

An intercepted letter was produced and read, alleging that the Fenians had matured a design of a very sanguinary character, looking to nothing less than the extermination of the English nobility on the opening of the rebellion.

On Friday, 29th September, the sales of cotton for the week preceding reached 89,000 bales. The market was excited and buoyant, with an advance of two and a half pence for American, and one to two on other descriptions.

Middling Orleans twenty-four and half pence: middling Uplands and Mobile twenty-four pence.

The following Saturday sales amounted to 40,000 bales.

In Breadstuffs, market firm, with upward tendency.

Manchester advices say manufacturers had large orders for goods, but the rise in cotton checked business.

LATEST BY THE CHINA.

The total advance in cotton since the sailing of the steamer Persia was from four to five and a half pence per pound. Advanced from two to three on Tuesday; half to one on Friday.

Destructive Fire.

PIT HOLE, PA., Oct. 9th, 1865.

The fire which broke out here this morning, on the farms of the U. S. Petroleum Company, destroyed 4000 barrels oil; also derricks and engine houses of thirteen oil mills. Loss one hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

From Richmond.

RICHMOND, Oct. 9.

Highway robberies are becoming almost of daily occurrence just outside the city limits. A gentleman of Jamestown was waylaid and robbed last night of fifteen hundred dollars and a gold watch, and left for dead. He is alive, but not expected to recover. As a protection, vigilance committees have been organized.

New York Markets.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9th, 1865.

Cotton firm; flour dull; and the sales of wheat unimportant. Whiskey dull and pork firm at 37¼.

The Episcopal Convention.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 9, 1865.

The convention re-assembled at 10 o'clock, when the Rev. Mr. Burgess, of Maine, reported from the committee on consecration of bishops that due evidence of the election of Rev. Chas. Todd Quintard, as Bishop of Tennessee, had been produced before them and they submitted a resolution, which was adopted after long discussion, that they approved of Bishop Quintard's testimonials and give consent to his consecration as bishop of diocess of Tennessee.

The reverend gentleman was for some time a chaplain in the Confederate army.

All Goes Well in Texas.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.

Accounts received in this city from Texas, show that the work of reorganization is proceeding rapidly, and most satisfatorily, there being no collision whatever between the State and military authorities.

Fire in Philadelphia—Heavy Loss of Property.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.

A fire has occurred here destroying the United States bonded warehouses, containing four thousand barrels of coal oil, belonging to various parties. Loss ninety-six thousand dollars, one half of which was insured.

The total expenditure of the Navy Department during the four years of war was about $850,000,000, and that of the War Department about $2,650,000,000, of which the Quartermaster's Department alone expended about $1,400,000,000.

TOBACCO EXPORTS.—A Richmond paper says:—During the month of September, $400,000 worth of tobacco, bonded at $160,000, was shipped from this city to Northern ports. One hundred and seventy thousand pounds of tobacco was shipped from this city for Europe on Wednesday.

The citizens of Sullivan county, Indiana, have had a meeting for the purpose of devising means to keep negroes out of the country. The people of Perry county in the same State have passed resolutions that negroes shall not come there to stay.

AUCTION SALES OF GOVERNMENT PROPERTY IN THE STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA.

AUCTION SALES OF HORSES, MULES, ARMY Wagons, Spring Wagons, Harness and other government property will take place from time to time at principal cities and towns in the State.

These sales will afford farmers excellent opportunities to stock their farms with any class of animals they desire to purchase.

Each sale will embrace a variety of stock, including riding and draught Horses and Mules of every class. A few very large Mules, thoroughly broken to harness, and in fine condition, will be offered at each sale.

The attention of capitalists and dealers in stock is particularly called to the opportunities here presented for profitable investment. Stock purchased for cash at these sales may be sold on credit, with ample security, at a large advance, to farmers who are depending on their growing crops for means to purchase—or may be retained, and sold for cash at a large profit after the crops have matured.

Terms CASH on day of sale.

Sales will continue during the months of September and October will be advertised in this column as soon as dates are fixed.

At CHARLOTTE, on Tuesday, October 3d, 1865, under the direction of Capt. D. W. H. DAY, A. Q. M. Sale to commence at 10 o'clock, A. M., and to continue from day to day, at the discretion of Capt. Day.

MR. EDITOR:—THE FOLLOWING IS STRANGE BUT TRUE.

'Twas late last night that I was sitting, in my chamber, lonely, knitting,
Knitting on the same old stocking, I'd commenced before the war;
Knitting carefully, I was heeling—when methought I heard one stealing,
Stealing softly up the stairway, leading to my chamber door.

This I thought, and listened more.

Soon I heard a gentle knocking—hastily I dropped the stocking;
Dropped my knitting—the old stocking I commenced before the war.
Again, and louder, came the rapping—as the thought that I was napping;
Me a napping? Knitting, napping? Me who never—"Ope the door."

This the voice said—"Ope the door!"

"'Tis Sally's voice"—says I—"'tis Sally, and I have she's got some news,
And I'm powerful glad she's come too, for I most do have the blues.
"Sally," says I, "Sally, howdye?" "What's the news? Do have a chair?"
"Glorious news, my Peggy darling—glorious news from Market Square,"

"From Shepherd's Store in Market Square."

At Shepherd's Store, they've got new shoes—such here now, laced up, tasseled beauties.
Morocco, kid, and patent leather—Congress gaiters too-tipped bootees.
Balmoral, Prunello and Creole. Mens and women boys and girls;
Such a sight it is to behold—they're the cheapest in the world.

The very cheapest in the world.

And Peggy, dear, they've got new hats—military civilian.
All the style of Frenchy fashion—a la Emp'ror Maximillian.
And I told my husband, Johnny, "throw aside that rusty beaver."
"Go to Shepherd's—market square—get a hat you deceiver,

Get a hat, and burn your beaver."

Well, Peg—John went to market square—he's just book—rigged up so gay,
A brand-new suit from top to toe—and cheap as dirt, ready pay:
And I advise you, Peggy darling—to give what you've got to spare,
To your dear Bobby in the morning—and send him straight to Market Square"

To Shepherd's Store, in Market Square.

"I'll do it, Sally dear"—says I—I'll send Bob early in the morn,
I'll send him straight to Shepherd's Store—I will as sure as I am born,
Good-bye, dear Sally! Must you go? Yes—good-bye, Peggy—now take care,
Be sure that Bob finds the right place—'tis SHEPHERD'S STORE, at Market Square.

Shepherd's Store, at Market Square.

We have a fine assortment of Ready-made Clothing, Boots and Shoes—Hats, &c., which we will sell at very low prices.
